THIS IS ANGELO...and when his new pictures are up, you will see he is a gorgeous, tan/white, 1-2 yr old, 15 lb, Lhasa Apso. He came to us with a broken leg/tibia and was in a cast for 10 weeks because he wouldn't sit still! Once the cast was removed, Angelo's true personality presented itself, and he has energy to spare! Loves to run and jump and play with his canine buddies nonstop. For that reason, he MUST go to a home with another small, young and very playful canine. He walks well on a leash and gets along famously with other dogs. He loves toys, like most young dogs do. Although he doesn't give kisses, he is very affectionate and loyal, as Lhasa are known to be. Angelo is initially a bit wary of strangers (a Lhasa trait) but warms up after he has given his "okay." He will bark to alert, but is not a barker. He does not like being left alone, so if you work from home or can bring your dog to work, he would be thrilled.

Of course, canine at home and human not gone all day is what the doc ordered! Could this be you?
