

Bhodi

Breed: Lhasa Apso, Yorkie ??

Age: DOB (5/2015) est

Sex: Male

Weight: 8 lbs (10-12 lbs @ maturity)

MEET BHODI...a six month old (est DOB 5/2015), tan/black, 8 lbs (10-12 lbs @ maturity), adorable mix of something...maybe Lhasa and Yorkie? All of that is a bit of a mystery to us, but what we do know about him is a little tragic. Bhodi was hit and dragged by a car so that the skin on his left hind leg was completely torn off, so the shelter amputated the leg. This little baby was left to die, but fortunately, a good Samaritan got him to the shelter. A sweeter, more loving, more attentive, kissy dog you will never meet. This tripod is still a puppy in every way...even enjoys playing and wrestling with his foster's pitbull Buddy! He is learning about potty training and is truly well mannered for a puppy! He doesn't seem to be fearful of anything! He would be great in a home with kids, definitely needs another dog (or two) who are young and playful, a yard and a doting family! Having three legs does not stop Bhodi for a second...there isn't anything a 4 legged dog can do that he can't! He is very special and will be available the first weekend in December.
