MEET THE ONE AND ONLY CHARLI GIRL…..a very special LHH ShiLhasa Doodle! We are calling her that because we aren't really sure what this 16 lb, gray/black, 1.5-2 yr old, LHH version of a doodle is!!

What we can tell you is she came from the Palmdale Shelter, where she was absolutely petrified! They did a behavior assessment on her because she barricaded herself in a corner of the kennel and lifted her lip when they tried to get close. Well….she had three foxtails in one ear, two in the other and loads and loads of goop in her ears. CAN YOU SAY PAIN? Once out of the shelter, this little lady almost immediately blossomed into the sweetest dog on the planet! It took us three days to teach her how to walk on a leash (obviously never walked before), jerking so hard we thought she was going to choke herself. NOW? She not only walks but runs, gallops up and down the stairs and you would never know she just learned how to walk!! CharliGirl is not only sweet, she is very smart and wants to please. We still haven't heard her bark…and yes, we did notice that she does look a little like a Gorilla, but calling her monkey would have been mean When you greet her in the morning, she acts a little like a spastic puppy, ready for her walk…breakfast and to greet the world with kisses and love!

CharliGirl is extremely friendly with everyone, kissing other dogs when she greets them and really has good manners. She is very human oriented so we believe the best home would have kids, possibly (but not mandatory) another young, playful dog and mostly a family who is around a lot. She doesn't have separation anxiety, but she is such a fun dog, she could go everywhere with you and just be the best companion ever. She even hugs you by wrapping her legs around your arm! She's not quite sure what toys are about, but she is learning! CharliGirl is a special lady and we want her to go to a wonderful home. Might that be with you??
