COWBOY IS PENDING ADOPTION

MEET COWBOY....and he will take you on the ride of your life! This very active, lovable, happy tri colored, 14 lb, 2-3 yr old Lhasa/Shih Tzu (long body, almond eyes but the rest is ST) has a lot of personality!! The shelter shaved him before we could have him groomed, but this is what he looked like!

He loves to play and he is still a puppy in nature! He will bark with high stimulus, so he would not be great in an apartment. He definitely needs to have another dog in the home who will play with him and help him to release some of his puppy energy! He loves long walks, the park and the beach! We don't think he had much training in his former home, so his new family should plan to work with him. He needs some work on the leash and also needs to know that toilet paper doesn't have calories but it does make a mess! He is soo lovable and when he is chill, he will just cuddle with you and give you kisses to know how much he appreciates your attention and love. Kids over 8 years old would be good...a home with someone around to enforce the "rules" and a backyard for him to play in with his canine brother/sister would be perfection! Does Cowboy sound like someone you could ride off into the sunset with?
