THIS IS DARCY...who came from the bushes and brush of the hills in San Bernardino. This precious little 10 lb, 5 yr old, matted, Maltipoo mess, stumbled into Dream Fetcher's team in the field and that was the luckiest day of her life! We took one look at her and Poodle or not, we said YES~we'll take her! Poor Darcy not only had a HUGE umbilical hernia, which looked like it was about to burst, she also has a broken jaw, which is an old injury. If you look closely, you can see her crooked smile, which we think is very endearing! She isn't in any pain and she eats well on a semi-soft diet and has a great appetite. Darcy acts like a puppy, full of personality and spunk. She has good energy, loves to walk (and well) on a leash. She seems to be potty trained on a schedule but no guarantees at your house! She loves to cuddle, snuggle, follow you around and she bonds like super glue! She is beginning to play with her toys and is becoming very animated! Without question, Darcy NEEDS a canine buddy and a lot of human interaction. We think she would even be good with well behaved children over 8 yrs old. We don't know what her past was like, but based on the condition she was found in...it wasn't nearly as good as she deserved. Darcy deserves an abundance of love and we're going to make sure she gets it.
