COURTESY POST

MEET DAVID....an adorable, 7 month old (DOB 9/30/2025), apx 15 lb (possibly 17 at maturity), black/grey/white, Pomeranian X, who is being rehomed because his family is moving internationally. It's clear they love him dearly, and this has been a very difficult decision to make. Sadly, this baby has already been in two homes, due to no fault of his own ☹️ He came from a neighbor who didn't want him, who told this family he is a Pomeranian/Shih Tzu mix? He has a soft thick coat (wonderful to cuddle with) and hardly sheds. No matter what his combo, there is no arguing that he is uniquely handsome!

David has a great personality and does well with dogs of all sizes and is even cat tolerant! He currently lives with a teenager and would do well with respectful kids. No aggression whatsoever, he's a wonderful puppy who just needs a wonderful, forever home!

This fluffball is very playful, loves to snuggle, play with his toys and is brimming with personality. He is a typical puppy who is learning about potty training and doing great! He is also learning that putting his harness on does not require a battle and is becoming more tolerant having his puppy paws handled. Like most puppies and dogs, he doesn't love his nails trimmed and would do best to have a professional take this on!

With a lot of love, consistency and a bit of training (that all puppies need), David will be the companion that will grow up with your family. He has a balanced level of puppyhood and calm, so he is the ideal companion! Does he sound like a pup you would welcome to come and stay forever? All applications will be forwarded to his current family, who will be leaving in June.
