MEET EDEN...a high spirited, happy, very active puppy who was picked up off the streets of San Bernardino with no ID. This sweet baby girl is black/white, 14 lbs, approximately 10 months old and her breed is really a mystery! If you take a look at the video, that is what she looked like before the groomer shaved off any clue of her breed! One thing we know about Eden is she is very smart! She listens and most of the time, she gets it – but she is still 100% puppy and needs training. Our foster is doing a remarkable job! She does crate her at night, which Eden doesn't like...but after a few minutes, she settles down. She would much rather be sleeping in bed with you! Just like a puppy, Eden can be clumsy and knock over her water bowl...or trip over a blanket...or springboard herself into your lap! She will make you a better housekeeper – keep those shoes out of sight! She understands “no” and she wants to please, which makes her highly trainable. We think Eden would thrive in a home with another young, playful dog and a few kids (over 8 please). MUST have one or the other, hopefully both. Little ones might get knocked over or be afraid of her puppy nibbling! It must be active – she loves to go running with you, to the park, on a hike. She is a dog for all seasons! She would not be a good fit in a senior home. We love this little girl and you will too if you have the right fit...just let us know, she is waiting!!
