HERE’S ELLORY!! Hey, Poodle people…do we have a dog for you! Mr. Ellory is a precious, liver/cream, 6 yr old, 11 lbs Maltipoo (heavy on the poodle) who will steal your heart! He has the most soulful eyes and he couldn’t be sweeter if he was an ice cream cone! Want a cuddler? Want a kisser? Want a mature dog with puppy energy? That’s Ellory! We don’t know his background because he was found as a stray in the “back hills” somewhere. He’s just lucky to be alive! He is a happy boy, loves to play and cuddle with you and other dogs! Ellory does need some work on his potty training, but he does use PP pads mostly. That being said, when he first arrives, he needs to let you know he is there! He doesn’t like to be alone, so he will cry when you initially leave, but he does calm down. He is one of those dogs who is very portable and could go with you everyone as he is very well behaved. He is a real gentleman. Ellory loves to be held and loved on and could go to almost any home, except one where he is left alone. A semi retired home would be fine, as long as he can get 2-3 walks a day so that he can be totally potty trained. He definitely is human oriented and would also be great with kids over 8 yrs old. Another dog would also be welcomed. Ellory is a cutie patootie and if you are looking for love….you’ve found it! Look no further.
