MEET FELICITY...a petite, 7.5 lb (but long in the body), 3 yr old, black/silver, Yorkie mix, who came to Lhasa Happy Homes with a busted up pelvis OUCH! Fortunately, she didn't require surgery and she is rested comfortably (when she rests) and she is all healed! This little miss acts more like a puppy than she does an adult! We kept her at the vet to heal so she wouldn't run around she has been happy at her foster home but is ready for her forever home!

Felicity is an uber active girl, even with a broken pelvis! She loves squeaky balls and can amuse herself but if you are home and you put her in a crate, or leave the room, be prepared to hear about it! She is like a shadow and wants to know/be where you are going! She wants to be your sidekick! She is very human oriented and doesn't seem to be all that interested in other dogs. She DOES like cats, so she would be a good playmate for a cat (but not a dog). She is happy, kissy, cuddly and would be a wonderful pup for someone who wants to take her everywhere and warm their lap at any given opportunity. When she came to us initially, with a busted up pelvis, you could not tell...she ran around like a headless chicken and so we believe the best home for her would be an active one, where she gets exercise and lots of outings with her family. Children welcome! She would not fare well in a sedate home. Felicity has the most adorable overbite...and once groomed, even more adorable. Could you handle this little piece of heaven in your home?
