MEET FENWAY...and even if he had been in Boston, I would have rescued this absolute treasure! Instead, he hailed from the San Bernardino Devore Shelter – one of the worst – and he didn't look like a Lhasa or anything else! Once groomed, a gorgeous, 3-4 yr old, 17.5 lb, tri colored Lhasa Apso emerged, sweet as can be, which is why I fell in love with this breed. Not only is he a very handsome dude, he is the wonderful dog all Lhasa aficionado want to have as a family member!

Fenway seems a little shell shocked right out of the shelter and switches from being a snuggly, kissy pup to a willful dog who isn't quite sure where or why you are taking him somewhere. Zero aggression, he just tugs on the leash but settles down quickly. He's afraid of the car at first, but then rides gently. Great with most other dogs, does his business outside – most of the time! No guarantees though! He prances like a show dog and he is very proud of his clean shaven 'do,' now that the foxtails and fleas are all gone. Since his makeover, he has been as very cuddly and affectionate gentleman and he's ready to become someone's buddy! However, we have learned that he can be playful mouthy and takes treats like he's never eaten before...unless you say "gentle" and then he's a pro!

Ideal home will be a family with kids (over 8 yrs old), he'd be great to come along to sports events! Parents who are around a lot and can give this pup lots of love and affection, which we believe he has been lacking ☐ Another dog is not necessary, but leaving him home alone for hours isn't either ☐ Fenway does hit the ball out of the park!!
