MEET JENNA, a super soft; incredibly sweet, gooey but innocent golden, 3 yr old, 20-lb Lhasa mix. She was withdrawn at first but watching her blossom has been a joy. We suspect she must have been loved and is confused about why she suddenly was dumped. Now that she has been with us a while, she seems much more confident and loving and longs for attention and love. Jenna is a shadow and will shower you with love no matter where you are! She loves her walks and does well on the leash but could use some practice. She even knows some of her commands, but would benefit from training! She gets along great with other small dogs, may bark at the larger ones but does listen to "quiet." She loves being with you and will be your shadow and wants to go with you everywhere! She would love a family and kids to play with...she has a lot of energy so a yard would be great or at minimum visits to the dog park! Jenna would be a great running partner! She does have separation anxiety, so she will need work on this as nobody is home 24/7. Once she feels secure, this should subside...but no crating for this little one!! Jenna is a pearl who will benefit from love and training...and a home to love her.
