

Jetson

Breed: Lhasa/Terrier

Age: 4 yrs

Sex: Male

Weight: 18 lbs

NEEDS A HOME WITH ANOTHER DOG (MAYBE LENNON?!)

MEET JETSON!! When he first arrived, we thought we had chosen the wrong name for him as he was very calm and subdued...but two days later, he was Jetson!! For those of you who prefer "scruffs," this black/brown, 4 yr old, 18 lb, Lhasa and Terrier Mix (heavy on the terrier who doesn't seem to shed) came to us from the SEAACA shelter with a yeast infection – which was almost gone after two medicated baths! After reviewing his paperwork, he was apparently in the shelter in August and returned; no reason given. ??? He is soooo playful and loves to follow you EVERYWHERE! While he does his business outside ...a yard would do wonders for him for those times when he wants to go out and it's not on the schedule! We learned quickly after his arrival that he does not like to be left alone (does NOT have separation anxiety)...but he is wonderful with other dogs and people of all ages. So, we believe that he would be best placed in a home where there is another dog for him!! He is a good cuddler, kisser and snuggle bug! He can also be independent and doesn't demand to sleep in bed with you! One thing – you need to make sure there is nothing left around as he loves to pick up “stuff” (he'll make you a better housekeeper) but he is not destructive. He is quiet for the most part and loves to “hang out” – but we think he'd be great on a run or a hike! He is a happy dog and loves to be loved and give love! He would be fine with kids over 5 yrs old...a yard would be a plus and another dog a joy. Does Jetson sound like a dog you would like to “jet set” around with? He's ready!
