MEET JUNO….a fantastic, tan and black, 5 yr old (playful), 18 lb, Lhasa Apso, who was dumped in the shelter by his owners because of Landlord problems. They stated he was 3 yrs old, but even as active and playful as he is, we believe him to be 5 yrs old. They also thought he was a Shih Tzu and he is a Lhasa!! Juno is a very happy dog, who LOVES to play. He is good on walks, although from a previous accident to his pelvis, he sometimes is a little weaker in his back end, yet he has absolutely no pain. Doesn't stop him for a moment. He likes to sit on your lap…and he would love to sleep in your bed! Kids would be an added plus, over 5 yrs old. Juno is fine with dogs but not in close quarters. We think that the best fit for him would be a home where he would be your one and only and get all the attention for himself! We really don't believe many of these dogs like to be alone, and Juno is definitely one who loves company….human and canine! So, if you work from home, that would be ideal! He doesn't need someone 24/7…he just needs to know he isn't being abandoned again!! Do you have a place in your heart and home for this boy?
