MEET KOSMO... And he is an out of this world, absolutely wonderful pup! Kosmo is a 2-3 year old, cream colored, 13 lb Lhasa Apso mix. Wandering on the streets of East LA without any identification, we tried to find his family and they were nowhere to be found. Kosmo is really well-adjusted. He seems to love everyone! He loves his walks, he loves his toys, he loves all the fosters in his household. In other words – he is a lover! He will only give you kisses once he knows you – he won't kiss and tell! We think he would be good with children over 8 yrs old, another dog in the house (no exceptions) and a home with a yard. He is very playful and active – he doesn't like being left alone and will cry when you leave. So if you are looking to adopt this boy, please don't leave him for long. Even though he is a Kosmo, he is very down to earth and wants to make someone's house a home! Could that be you?
