HERE'S NASH...and he left Crosby & Stills behind because all he needs is you! This handsome, 20 lb, tan/white, 7-8 yr old Lhasa Shih Tzu mix is one of the sweetest boys ever. His size/body length and muzzle is Lhasa...but he is single coated, head is domed and his attitude is all Shih Tzu. This boy doesn't have a growly bone in his body!

Nash is such a happy boy. He was overlooked at the shelter because he had a nasty looking cherry eye (which has been repaired) and he was scared and wary of people. Typical Lhasa! Now, he goes up to meet and greet everyone on a walk...as he strolls down the sidewalk! He does have a low thyroid and will need medication for the rest of his life (but it's inexpensive)

He has a very cute and funny personality. We don't know his story, but our guess is that his person was probably older and devoted and passed away.

Nash bonds pretty quickly and loves other dogs...even wins over the ones who don't typically like other dogs! He uses that "big tongue" to give kisses if you will let him! When you ignore him, he whines because he wants your attention and love. We thought he seemed to be potty trained, but his foster says as long as she is there, he's good but does have accidents when she leaves. Definitely used PP pads with us. He would be great with another dog and/or kids...he does need activity to slim down, but there is just more of him to love and cuddle ☐
