HERE'S RYAN.....cute as a button (are buttons really cute? Well this one is!) This petite 10 lb, 2-3 yr old, tri colored Shih Tzu, with a splash of Lhasa (long bodied), is a character. He came to LHH from Moreno Valley Animal Shelter with a broken leg ☹ Fortunately, he did not require surgery, but he took some time to heal. He loves to be pet and given tons of attention, and he wags his tail nonstop when he hears your voice. He'll lean into your body and sometimes collapse with affection once he knows and trusts you! Ryan was extremely shut down when he first arrived, and it takes him a little while to warm up...but when he does, he loves to play with his toys and other dogs...he is good with kids and should have some of his own (human, of course). We did not think that he needed to go with another dog, but he was pending adoption and we realized that is what would make him the happiest (they did not have another dog).

While he is very shy at first, Ryan is really a “no issues” dog (that we can tell) and even seems potty trained with outside access (a fenced backyard). If you are looking for a cutie pie who can join your family, hopefully with kids and other dogs....Ryan is your fluff muffin! How could you say no to that face?
